Comments by the Class Teacher

Izdan is a polite, kind, and gentle student. While he prefers to stay quiet, it has been lovely to see him gradually interact more with his peers as the term has progressed. He enjoys playtime, especially activities like beading and other creative tasks, where he can express himself freely. In his academic work, Izdan shows a steady attitude towards learning. With positive reinforcement, he is able to complete his tasks more quickly and with greater focus. He responds well to encouragement. He has made a great improvement in tracing letters and numbers. Ma Sha Allah! Izdan has mastered english letter identification with sounds and can identify most of the numbers allocated for this semester. To support his continued growth, we encourage parents to keep motivating him with gentle praise and help him learn Dhivehi letter identification with Fili. It would also benefit him from opportunities at home to practise fine motor activities, such as beading, drawing, and tracing. These will further strengthen his skills and confidence. Wishing Izdan a joyful holiday!

Comments by the Class Teacher

Izdan is a shy student with a gentle demeanor and the potential to excel academically. Although he is quiet in nature, he has formed positive friendships within the class and engages appropriately with his peers. One of Izdan's most endearing qualities is his warm smile and bright expression when his efforts are acknowledged, reflecting his eagerness to learn. Ma Sha Allah, he has shown significant improvement in writing English letters and numbers independently. Izdan can confidently identify most English letters using objects and can recognise the Dhivehi letters taught this semester. To further support his development, it is recommended that during the holidays he continues practicing English letter sounds, double blends, and Dhivehi letters with fili. Engaging in creative and physical activities will also help build his confidence and overall growth. Best wishes for his continued success, and sincere thanks to his parents for their support.
